Editorial . . .

One last dose of examinations for most Glenlawnites marks the end of another term. We hope that once the students have recovered, they will look back on this year as one of the best of their school lives. With this in mind we of the "Year Book Committee" have worked to make this seventh publication of GLENMORIES one of the best to serve as a clear and helpful reminder of the Students and Activities during the 1954-'55 term.

In this issue we have tried to present a summary of the past year's doings. The opening of the spacious auditorium resulted in the expansion of all Activities. The Constitution drawn up by Bruce Johnston also aided in increasing the scope of activities through smooth-running committees. The results of these two great steps which will go down in the history of Glenlawn Collegiate are more clearly expressed in the following pages.

When the Year Book Committee was first formed in January of this year, it was our ambition to increase the number of pages, but due to financial circumstances we were unable to do so. Another speculation on our part concerned the improvement of our Literary section. In this at least, we hope we have succeeded.

We would like to give special thanks to Miss V. Fryer for her undying faith and invaluable help to the committee. Her knowledge and foresight have helped us through many a crisis in the course of our work.

Thanks also to Mr. W. Nowosad, who as another staff Advisor helped us with the Advertising work of our committee. Grateful thanks to the Student Council for their worthwhile grant, and to the Class Representatives and the many individuals who contributed photographs, write-ups, essays, assistance and helpful hints. Without their considerate attention the Year Book Committee surely would have been unable to work as smoothly as it did.

Grateful appreciation to Mr. A. Mensforth and Mr. G. Simpson of Garry Press Ltd., who gave us encouragement and untiring help. Thanks also to Mr. R. Wright of National School Studios, and to Mr. H. Luebeck, who provided us with expert photography.

Before going on we would like to give a hearty "GOOD LUCK" to this year's graduates, and a sincere "HAPPY VACATION" to all students of Glenlawn Collegiate Institute.

—Guy Lavallée

CAME THE RAIN

He thought that he knew all there was to know,
For he knew of the atom, and stress and strain;
Now to his foes his powers he would show,
Forgetting the lesson of Noah and the Rain.

So he smeared the earth with evil and dirt,
And from his greed watched the blood seep and stain;
'Til the Lord was angered and His Power did assert,
And thus once again came the rain, the rain.

—Bernard Amos, XII.

RETURN OF SPRING

The long awaited spring has come
To rest upon the frozen earth,
And bring the warming days of sun
To fill the earth with bubbling mirth;
So change dull gray to gay and light,
Then dance about with all your might.
For spring has come at last today
And banished all our cares away.

The robin who was gone so long
Returns to sing his merry song;
And all the little growing things,
A toast to spring he sings and swings,
From storage awakened by the sun,
Poke out their heads, to join the fun,
To welcome spring who was away
In hopes that she will stay and play.

PRINCIPAL'S MESSAGE

Once again the Glenmories Year Book and graduation have completed another cycle, and the senior classes are about to close the door behind them with reluctance and hope.

The graduates have learned much academically and socially, and only the future will value it adequately. Blessed be that student who closes the school door behind him enriched in the things of the spirit, for living in reality and fully is spirit experience. The human body demands much in feeding, clothing and sheltering it with every satisfaction and comfort and even in pampering its vanity, but its "life" differs little from that of all animals. In spirit, however, man rises to kinship with divinity, and only in divinity does he live.

Hence, blessed is he who enriches his spirit while his body ascends from the dust to return again to it at last in oblivion. The secret of life is the fact that it is wholly spirit experience, and enrichment of spirit is buoyant living. It is living in continuous immortality in other lives and in ceaseless continuity as it goes on in cumulative enrichment.

It is obvious, therefore, that if one were to advise young people starting out in life, in a single sentence, it would be to say, "He that saveth his life — but putting body before spirit — shall lose it, but he that loseth his life — by giving spirit a greater value than body — shall find it." Thus, fellow students, life is a paradox because it is a dualism. Your job will be to maintain the right balance. Is living the product of the kitchen range, the factory and the land, or is there a source of nourishment superior to and more consistent with reality? Discover that source and draw on it, and you will live successfully with or without the accretions of that which is called wealth.

Message from the Student Council

The accomplishments of this year's Student Council would have been impossible without the fine co-operation of our Principal, teachers, and students. Our thanks are extended to all.

We would like to offer our congratulations to all those students who have brought honor and fame to GLENLAWN, particularly to the members of the boys' and girls' basketball teams, to their coach, Mr. A. Leach, and to track and field stars.

The Student Council has had a busy year making and spending money. On the credit side we have had a sale of Christmas Trees, several profitable dances, a tea, and a very successful Variety Show.

With regard to expenditures, we have purchased a supply of spoons, cups and saucers for future teas, a public address system for the auditorium, sports equipment, and complete new uniforms for the basketball teams and cheerleaders.

However, matters financial have not been all. One of the outstanding accomplishments of the Council has been the drawing up of a Constitution for Glenlawn. Then this year, Glenlawn Student Council became affiliated with other High Schools through the Inter-High Council.

In closing, the Student Council wishes the best of luck to the graduating class, and hopes they are sorry to be leaving Glenlawn.

—STUDENT COUNCIL.

AUGUST HAUGEN

August is another genius. Must have been in Al's class. He didn't learn curling in any school though.

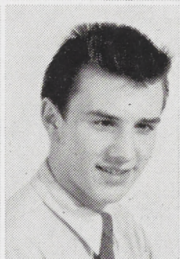

NEILL HELYAR

Commonly labelled "Buddy" by the female species. Neill is still on the market for an unattached one. Happy hunting, old fellow.

JIM KRUGER

Seems to know where everything is in his desk, but we wonder how. Plays his sports with Ted and the rest of the gang.

Guy, our classroom Prexy, is on just about every committee going. Lunches at his sister's seem to delay him somewhat at noon.

YVONNE LECUYER

A quiet blonde who hails from fair Transcona. Finds urgent business away from us on many occasions, but is valued for her friendly smile.

GAIL MARCHYSHYN

Gail, believe it or not, sprained her ankle getting off a bus. She managed to get transplanted into strong, capable, kindly hands, mercifully enough.

LARRY MASON

Third on the school's best curling outfit, Larry can't wait to get the Hillman rolling again. Takes time out from curling and driving to pull off terrific marks in school.

ROSEMARY MILGAARD

There are rumours around school that she is quite a skier. One thing that's sure, she doesn't believe in long hair. A good sport, with a ready smile.

PARK MUNRO

Park was one of the stars of our Variety Show, with his excellent vocal-and-violin numbers. Teams well with McKinnon in comedy.

JOHN NEILSON

Our "brain-guardian" and GLENMORIES Rep. enjoys rugby, as well as curling, skipping a tough game for the opposition. Interests tend to cross the room.

JIM NEWBOLD

Another member of the sports minded group. In class he is in the sad position of always having Harv in his hair, or maybe it's the other way around.

HARVEY NEILSON

Still hasn't unwound and shows no signs of doing so. Keeps the front of the class stirred up with his constant stream of conversation and jokes.

MURRAY PARKER

Muzz skipped his curling outfit to victory through the finals to win the championship. Likes to play rugby, we understand. For Mustangs, that is.

GERALDINE PARSONS

Harv's curling partner. Spends most of her weekends at home, which is in Rennie. Must be some attraction out there.

EDWARD PENTLAND

Still another member of the gang. Ed is so fast when it comes to writing exams that he keeps the teacher busy supplying him with paper.

RONNELL PIRIE

Ron is another member of the mighty, Mustangs. Keeps in shape at Safeway's, where he is assistant manager of the cart pushers.

DIANE SAGE

Diane is one of the school's top female bowlers. One of the many who find it tiring to come to school on time in the mornings.

JACK SCANLAN

"Crusher Jake" is still another member of the Mousetangs. (Oops: slipped). He also plays basketball, and wrestles.

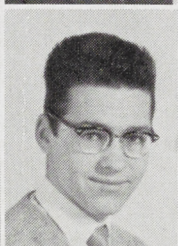

JACKIE SMITH

Essay on Curiosity

A warm, bright sun greeted me that summer morning, as I emerged from the house, beginning a day that I felt I wanted to enjoy to the utmost. Even the thought of enjoying it in school didn't disturb me. Jumping down from the back porch, and landing with the grace of a pogo-stick several yards from it, I gained a sense of joy in being alive. You can easily see why my curiosity would be very much in an active state that day.

I sprinted down our driveway and in two enormous bounds, crossed the road. On my journey down from my last leap, I spied a moving creature directly where my foot would be in the next fraction of a second. My good deed done for the day, I cautiously picked myself up from the ground and twisted my bones back into shape.

But there he was, safe and alive. A woolly-bear caterpillar, comprised of a full inch-and-a-quarter of wriggling tube covered with dark brown fur, was just in the act of falling from the sidewalk or bridge across the ditch, onto the road. He righted himself and marched on with, seemingly, a ferocious purpose. Not a glance to either side, but straight ahead. "Where is he going?" I wondered. From delicate calculations, I deduced that he had spent most of his life crossing a lawn, a cracked sidewalk, and a boulevard, from an elm tree to the road. Following that line of sight, I saw that he was headed across the avenue to a big Manitoba maple growing in our garden.

My heart sympathized with the little fellow. All that way and no taxi in sight! I stooped over to examine this scene more carefully. I could imagine myself marching non-stop from Winnipeg to Toronto or Montreal! What was this creature thinking about it all?

"Boy, just this road to go and then—ah! What I wouldn't give for a nice comfortable cocoon right now! Oh! Oh! Here's a big one. Can't seem to get around it. No, here's a smaller one. All I have to do is—ugh—get over this and I'm—ugh—over! That's a relief! Should be a little easier for awhile now. Hey! I think I see my tree now. I can hardly wait. Let's go, legs. March! One, two, three, four . . .! Getting there. Ouch! That was a close one—stone just about flattened my rear whiskers. This dust is awful! Why, they say some roads are so smooth and clean you can see all the way across! But then, that's life. What's wrong now? I hear . . . I feel it now, too! What is this?"

OUR SCHOOL AUDITORIUM

The students of Glenlawn Collegiate have recently had the pleasure of welcoming a new addition, an auditorium, to our present school building.

Our new gymnasium auditorium, approximately three time the size of the former one, is well equipped with basketball and volleyball facilities, and has courts measured off in regulation sizes. At one end of the hall is a sturdy, well-built stage, under which are stored many chairs used for large public gatherings. Beyond the auditorium, under the stage, are also dressing-rooms and showers for Glenlawn's star basketball squads and P.T. classes.

To celebrate the opening of our gym we held a school dance, called "Gymnasium Jamboree", with a well-known dance band in attendance. We plan to use our gym very much in the future for such school activities as basketball games, teas, dances, assemblies, tumbling periods, and Physical Education classes, which we know will be enjoyed to the full.

There was a car, just turning a corner, and picking up speed. My first thought was to rush out onto the road and stop it, but I saw the fierce look of determination in the driver's eyes, eyes that had a glint of cold steel, eyes that saw only a point half a mile away to be reached in the shortest time possible. Closer and closer—Oh! No!

It was getting late, so I turned in the general direction of the school, and trudged off. No longer did I have any special desire to enjoy the day. My heart was broken, and if the world had come to an end, I wouldn't have felt more miserable. Just then, after a few minutes of walking, I saw another woolly-bear caterpillar, in the middle of the road in front of me! Joy spurted up to my ears and I felt happy and gay like the day around me. This time, though, I wasn't curious. "Curiosity killed the cat", they say, but mine had brought death to a caterpillar. So before continuing on my way in the warmth of the day, I picked up the "bear", walked to a tree, and placed him right at the base.

SELLING CHRISTMAS TREES

Of the numerous activities planned for this school year, the Christmas tree sale has been quite successful for its first year in operation. The pupils, although at first not too willing to sell trees, busied themselves after four o'clock and on weekends, for a final total of over one thousand five hundred sales. There was a possibility of some five thousand sales, but it seemed as though almost every family canvassed had either promised to purchase from friends or they had no need of a tree this year. These sales did not go unrewarded, for there were first, second and third prizes, and many fourth prizes which were awarded to the pupils having the highest sales on the night of the Christmas dance — and still in time for last minute gift shopping. There were enough trees sold for a profit such that the Student Council was able to purchase gym equipment and uniforms for the use of the school members.

MICHELO

Michelo the Hekapot
Just played a bit and thought a lot;
A jacket wore,—an awful bore,—
Could talk a streak, to make you snore.

Michelo the Hekapot
The worlds of dreamland always sought,
Yet not to find—but to the core
Of heartbreak hugged his mission sore.

To rant and rave, a life to save—
His own, no doubt,—but still to crave
For fairytales of snakes and snails,
Of verdant hills and snowy sails.

Behold him now! One of the brave!
His jacket bright to all must wave
Who try to hide, but soon are caught
By Michelo the Hekapot.

Across the world, on sea, ashore,
You can't escape, for there are more
To take the place, most like as not,
Of Michelo the Hekapot.

SOCIAL SCENE

As another school year draws to a close, we look in on GLENMORIES' Social Scene, a picture of class and school activities.

Social doings started briskly with a class party staged by Room 8. They were fortunate to have the weather on their side, and held a very successful weiner roast which was enjoyed by all. Next, Rooms 7 and 9 got into the swing with individual class dances, and Rooms 4 and 5 combined to hold a scavenger hunt and dance. On October 12, Room 2 held a swimming party at Sherbrook Pool, and later went to the home of the class president, Jean Pollitt, for a get-together and refreshments. Rooms 1 and 10 held a scavenger hunt and dance the following evening.

Our Remembrance Day Ceremony, held on November 11, was conducted over the P.A. system, since the new gym was not yet completed. The service, although very brief and presented "by remote control", was impressively shared by all, and was very ably led by Mr. Yarwood and the Council Executive.

On November 12, the Red Cross held a very successful tea, thanks to the generous help of Staff and Students, and to the kind patronage of families and friends.

Among the many contributions of Council President Bruce Johnston to Glenlawn this year, we rank high a Constitution, which has already proved itself an asset. An assembly marked its final approval.

To commemorate the opening of the new gymnasium - auditorium, a dance, "Gym Jamboree", was held on November 26. This function was capably directed by President Bruce Johnston and his assistants. As for the auditorium itself, its great length and height earned due wonderment and awe. For days in advance, the Social Committee, headed by Bill Kane and Elaine Paluk, was kept busy decorating the gym and planning for an orchestra. The dance proved to be a great success, and a smashing opening for our new accommodation. Finally the gym was officially opened on January 25, 1955, by the Minister of Education and members of the School Board. Following a speech by Mr. S. Burland, Chairman, piano selections were given by Glenlawn students, Brenda Fraser and Marlene McKinnon. Choral numbers given by a very pleasing group of Public School students, under the direction of Mrs. H. Green, were enjoyed.

The new gym was enriched with stage and sports equipment, thanks to a Christmas Tree Sale. This activity further helped Collegiate funds. An Xmas party climaxed the bubbling of Christmas spirit which started during examinations, when Room 2 sported gaily decorated chalkboards and a tree.

February saw "Open House" at the University of Manitoba on the 11th, with Glenlawn's Rooms 7 and 8 in attendance, and on February 18, our Valentine "Queen of Hearts" Dance. As Valentine's Day neared, Queen candidates were chosen from each room to take part in the final contest. As the dance successfully progressed, the students anxiously awaited the results of the judging. Then the winners were presented: Edna Leonard (Room 9) as Glenlawn's fair Queen, with Laine Carswell (Room 8) and Audrey Mayfield (Room 10) as Princesses. Congratulations to all Room Queens, including Judy Cooper (Room 1), Doreen Menzies (Room 2), Grace Malyk (Room 4), Verda Gatchell (Room 5), and Carol Gordon (Room 7).

Glenlawn's Highlight of 1954-'55 was the annual Variety Show, a tremendous success, and quite literally a "curtain-opener" for the new stage. The event is covered in detail elsewhere in this issue. Once more the Student Council labored long and well, in organizing the plentiful talent which was at hand.

GLENMORIES wishes to express the sincere thanks of all to the Social Committee in particular for the wonderful job they have done to make this year at Glenlawn a memorable success.

JUNIOR RED CROSS

We opened our Junior Red Cross activities this year with Miss N. Kelly as director, Dorothy Curtis as chairman, and Betty Stevens as secretary-treasurer.

Miss Spenceley, director of Junior Red Cross, asked all the schools to help in trying a new project this year. The Provincial Junior Red Cross is making a valiant effort to collect the second hundred thousand dollars necessary for the building of a convalescent unit in the new Children's Hospital. For this purpose a box was placed in each classroom. In our school, each room chose a different means of collecting money.

At Christmas, according to tradition, each room packed a Hamper. These, packed full of good things, were on display at the Christmas Dance. Some of the girls made Christmas favours during their spare time. These novelties were taken to Miss Spenceley who distributed them to hospitalized children.

In the New Year, Red Cross was not forgotten. We sold candy and drinks at the Variety show in March as a further fund-raising project. Then Gloria Bourget and Eileen Woodman represented our branch in helping with the advertising during the March Red Cross Drive.

Although we have not yet reached our objective of fifty cents per student, a total of one hundred and twenty-two dollars has so far been given to the Red Cross.

We wish to express our thanks to all the students who helped to make this year a success for our Junior Red Cross.

Red Cross Tea . . .

Junior Red Cross Tea

Rich red, brown, and yellow coloured autumn leaves provided the appropriate decorations for our Junior Red Cross Tea on November 12, the function being opened by the Junior Red Cross chairman, Dorothy Curtis.

The grade twelve girls, Joyce Stevenson, Edna Leonard, Elaine Paluk, Martha Yurkowski, Barbara Johnston, Sonja Carlson, Helen Fujishige and Dorothy Curtis, poured tea.

Junior Hostesses were: Charlotte Evans, Wendy Woods, Jean Pollitt, Barbara Paterson, Carol Baker, Muriel Hewitt, Diana Crossin and Betty Stevens, convened by Miss H. Elliott.

The supplies were efficiently looked after by Miss Elliott and a group of grade eleven girls.

Under the capable management of Mrs. Elliott, Mrs. Collyer, Mrs. Poulter, and Mrs. Williams, the home cooking netted $45.85.

A total of 75 per cent of the proceeds, $90.00, went to the Junior Red Cross to be divided between the convalescent Units of Children's Hospital and the Crippled Children's Fund, the other 25 per cent to the Student Council.

The Decoration Committee, under the supervision of Dr. Watkins and Mr. Nowosad, did a splendid job in making two of the classrooms into tearooms, since the auditorium was not yet completed. A Red Cross Display, donated by Miss Spenceley, provided an additional attraction to the Home-cooking room.

The Wishing Well in its appropriate setting by the front door brought to our minds the purpose of the Junior Red Cross: to promote health, to serve others, and to increase international understanding. It proved a great attraction for both young and old, as well as adding a sum of $7.63 to the total proceeds of the tea. Wilma How deserves special thanks for her work on the Well.

The ready response and cheerful co-operation of Staff and Student Body helped those in charge over the rough spots and made the day a success.

The Variety Show

After weeks of arranging and rehearsing, Glenlawn finally opened its brand new curtains on the Annual Variety Show. This very successful event ran for two nights, playing to near capacity crowds.

The show, patterned in part on a week's Television, included such substantial dramas as "Dragnet" and "Medic" by Rooms 10 and 7. "Fashions for '55", presented by Room 8, featured the latest in girls' fashions modeled by the latest in boys. Then we spent a pleasant "Day on the Farm" with Room 4 and their pantomime. One of the best acted skits was "Madame's Hat Shoppe", by Room 2, entertainment which brought forth howls of laughter from the appreciative audience.

The dancing was excellent and varied, ranging from a classical ballet by Grace Clint and Doreen Menzies, through a show-stopping acrobatic ballet by "Mory and Sandy", to the lively hornpipe of Carol Lancaster and a spirited rhumba by talented Doreen Lytle, who also offered an Irish number in honor of St. Patrick's Day. The Charleston, making a drastic contrast, was ably executed by Helen Fujishige, Elaine Paluk, and Richard Higginson. The Cheerleaders' Western Can-Can, second only to the Folies Bergeres of Paris, completed the "fancy footwork" portion of the programme.

Solo work featured three pleasing singers, Diane Keymer, Donna Course, and Guy Lavallee, each with a very different style, offering a variety of enjoyable songs. At the piano, Carol Kendall gave a well received solo performance.

Two other luminaries of the music world were Park (Old Timer) Munro and Frank McKinnon, who charmed the audience with their fiddle and accordion duet.

No Glenlawn Variety Show would be complete without "The Band". This year, the famous Trio of Bill Kane, Cliff Lear and Ted Mayor was joined by Don Wilkins, Gordon Evans, Hans Raedler, and Josh Bardsley.

On the more athletic side, the Tumblers, both boys and girls, gave a thrilling performance. Something new in the sports

CHEER LEADING

"YEA GLENLAWN!"—I wonder just how many times we have heard this resounding through the halls at noon-hour, and through the gym at games! Besides the same old "RICKA CHICKA", there were three new cheers, this year. A few of the old cheers were rejuvenated with sparkling new actions, for the latest repertoire included leap-frog, cartwheels, somersaults and splits.

The cheerleaders put a great deal of practice and hard work into perfecting their wares. In attendance at all league games, they cheered our teams on to victory in the suburban meet and into the finals in the Provincial tournament. There were other assignments. Sporting white ducks with their red sweaters, the girls were found cheering on the St. Vital Mustangs football team in the finals of their league. In the Variety Show, yellow and black, in place of red and grey, transformed the cheerleaders into "The Naughty Ladies of Shady Lane." At the Assembly, they demonstrated the cheers and helped in the Pep Rally.

Ten in number, the girls were led by Janice Beaton and Wendy Woods. When Barbara Patterson was unable to continue, they were joined by Jane Chivers, who leapt gleefully in to fill the breach.

Through a generous grant from the Student Council, and the sewing skill of Laura Clark, the cheerleaders sported completely new uniforms this season. Many favourable comments overheard on every occasion seemed to make all the work, worry, and shouting worth while.

WE WERE THERE

*"We're here because.....
We're here because.....
We're here because.....
We're here....."*

These words heralded our approach to the campus in Fort Garry the day the University of Manitoba held their annual "Open House" for Grade XI and XII students of all high schools. Everyone wore his most vivacious smile as we neared the Student Union Building—could be the T.V. camera trained on the walk accounted for this. Those students who desired guides for the tour assembled in the U.M.S.U. Building. There they reported to sections of the gymnasium labeled for each faculty, and were assigned, as guides, students of that particular branch.

Buildings of general interest such as the U.M.S.U. and the vast new library were visited first. Then departments of special interest were inspected. Many and varied were the sights viewed—the dissection of an unborn piglet in the science section, 4th year students cracking eggs in the Home Economics section, and a lie detector in the Arts Building which registered as true one boy's assertion that he had climbed Mount Everest.

Many of the groups received brief but informative talks dealing with the courses in which they appeared interested. Some students came away carrying pamphlets on various topics.

After a tour of about two hours we assembled again at the U.M.S.U. Building, where we were entertained with jokes and impersonations (?) and particularly enjoyable singing by a quartet of students. We received a warm though belated welcome from the President of the University, and an address from the President of the Student's Union.

Finally, after much confusion and many snowy mishaps, everyone was loaded on the bus and sent off home.

Some had visited out of interest, some out of curiosity and some just for the ride, but regardless of their reason, all came away inspired and enthusiastic.

Another novelty was the "original" duet by Richard Buss and Doug Chivers, on guitar and harmonica respectively. As Master of Ceremonies, Richard had a busy time besides, for he capably entertained the audience between acts with his witticisms old and new, and teamed with Student Council President Bruce Johnston, and Executive members Diana Crossin, Helen Fujishige, and Wendy Woods, in the organization of the whole Variety Show.

Sports Editorial . . .

Special thanks are in order to the School Board for agreeing to enlarge our old gymnasium with a $60,000 addition. Now our sports teams have a home in which to play their important games and a home audience to cheer them on. GLENLAWN LIONS this year came to within one game of winning the Provincial title, mainly because they had a fine court to practise on during the winter. Basketball backboards and court outlines were made by Mr. Leach, aided by Mr. Mayne, Mr. Flather and members of the team. Further thanks go to the Student Council for outfitting the basketball teams and cheerleaders with new uniforms.

In a review of school sport, we find that football has gained a place of importance. Dressed in uniforms loaned by the University of Manitoba, our teams scrimmaged in the gym during the winter, learning the fundamentals of line play. Perhaps next year we shall have a team capable of league competition. Volleyball suffered for some reason, and city schools escaped unchallenged. Let's give them a fight next year! Soccer realized a ray of hope when Mr. Roberts turned out to teach some fine points of the game, but he was unable to carry on the good work. We did prove, however, that a fighting team could be assembled under proper guidance. On the curling front, two foursomes entered in the High School Bonspiel and wore their fists to the bone, but after winning two games, their brooms went into retirement. Richard Higginson did well on the curling committee, and succeeded in introducing a new challenge trophy honoring the late Mr. R. Laurie, a fine teacher and curling enthusiast. Bowling had a great season, under the leadership of Robyn Hull and his aides, Edna Leonard, Wendy Woods, and Ross Stewart.

Track and field entrants were out early this spring, in spite of wet weather, stretching their muscles in preparation for the May events. In fact, the premiere of the GLENLAWN SPRING 440 saw eight boys brave the north winds to run around the track in over two feet of snow, marking the first day of Spring.

BOYS' BASKETBALL

Another chapter in the story of the Glenlawn Lions has been written. Though it is an exciting one, it is much like those preceding it, highlighted once again by Mr. A. Leach's inspired coaching.

Our season began early, with "warm-ups" on the Glenlawn outdoor courts, so that when our new gym was finally completed, we were ready to defend our title as Suburban Champions. Selkirk, our first opponents at G.C.I., tasted defeat 60-26 on December 10. Six straight wins was our record when Norwood punched a 47-34 blow in our spirits. Five days later we went to West Kildonan, and there played a weird game, ending it with a record-breaking 121 to 34 score. Bill DeVries surpassed Ron Sandstrom's three year record of 45 points, by notching 56!

With the schedule coming to a close, we found we had to beat a strong St. James team to tie Norwood. 60 to 26 was enough to win the league on points. Now came the long play-off trail!

Selkirk fell by the way for 42-20 and 47-16 scores. The real test, however, came in the series against Norwood. We won the first game by a goal, 38-36; Norwood tied soon after, 52-41, in spite of Bill DeVries' 20 points. Thus evenly matched, we fought to the end, with our team edging out of 40-38 points, winning the final game. Barry Deakin scored the important points that climaxed a Glenlawn comeback in the remaining seconds of the game.

In the Provincial tourney, we knocked out Dauphin and Flin Flon, but in the final game, it was Isaac Newton who towered above us to win 53-43.

Nevertheless, we enjoyed a good season. Neale Driver sparked in his rookie year; Bill Balicky and Dave Monroe handled the back-court job superbly; and Bernard Amos, Bill DeVries, and Barry Deakin were the main strength under the hoop. DeVries topped the league in points with 144; Balicky was fourth, scoring 89, and

GIRLS' BASKETBALL

The 1954-55 season saw Coach Art Leach faced with the task of rebuilding a new ball team. His encouragement and coaching abilities and the eagerness of the players to learn won for Glenlawn its fourth consecutive suburban championship. It was a long up-hill struggle for the girls, but it was their undefeatable team spirit which inspired them to victory.

On every team, there are those who, at one time or another, must remain on the sidelines. Thus, we cheer the bench for its interminable support of the playing line.

Hold-overs from last year were Barbara Johnson, Wilma How and Ileane Mousseau. Newcomers who proved themselves worthy of the Red and Grey were Lois Kelly, Grace Malyk, Eleanor Hawn, Gail Toyne, Carol Baker, Edith Beswatherick, Charlotte Evans, and Donna Gregory. It was a loss to the team when Donna was forced to discontinue playing in the early part of the season.

The scores in the league games were, in review: 14-12 over East Kildonan, 16-11 over Norwood, 11-9 over Selkirk, 9-10 for Selkirk, 37-9 over East Kildonan, 19-32 for St. James, 25-10 over Norwood, 53-15 over West Kildonan, and 15-13 over St. James.

The first game of the semi-final against Selkirk was a thriller, Glenlawn managing to come out on top 18-17 in the last three minutes of play. In the second tilt, Glenlawn overwhelmed the determined S.C.I. quintette to the tune of 37-13.

In the final series, the Glenlawn squad jolted the Jimmies by taking them two straight games. The first was a surprise to all as Glenlawn started fast with a superb defence, trouncing St. James 32-11. St. James was an improved team in the second game, but Glenlawn turned back a determined bid to defeat them in overtime 25-22.

In the Provincial tournament, the Glenlawn girls took the first game by crushing Neepawa 56-12. Glenlawn then met a crack team from Brandon in the second match, and by sheer determination defeated

BOWLING

The sixteen-team bowling league got off to a good start on October 18 and ran through to April. Throughout the regular schedule the top teams were quite close, no one ever gaining a substantial lead. Quarterly winners were groups captained by Ross Stewart, Edna Leonard and Robyn Hull. These three teams entered the Coronation annual High School competition and bowled against representatives from Norwood, St. Boniface and St. Vital. Ross Stewart's team managed to place second and Robyn Hull's placed third.

BOWLING COMMITTEE

Also during the Christmas holidays, Ross Stewart, Edna Leonard, Helen Fugishige, Jim Black and Al Moon entered competition as a team, and came out in fifth place.

This season's high average was held by Jim Black with 165. Neale Driver ran a close second with 164. Edna Leonard holds the girls' high average with 172. Another close second was Carol Prior with 170. Edna also scored the year's high single—278. Boys' High Single was held by Walter Worosz with 279.

Eight teams entered the Roll-offs in high spirits. The victorious team was captained by Wendy Woods with Neale Driver, Ileana Mousseau, Gail Chamberlain and Gerald Sawyer. Running second was Helen Fugishige's team of Diana Crossin, Don Brown, Laine Carswell, Donna Course. Placing third were Sonjia Carlson, Don Harris, Richard Buss, Al Pilling and Norm Claydon. Throughout the season the handicap averages and standings were compiled and posted weekly by the Bowling committee consisting of Robyn Hull, Ross Stewart, Edna Leonard and Wendy Woods.

The Manitoba High School Bowling Championships were again held at Easter. Some of last year's girls, who won the Provincial Trophy, are still with us. As events turned out, the boys did not win; the girls placed third. Bowlers entered in this Championship included:

| Boys:       | Girls:          |

Amos fifth with 87, a total of 320 points in 9 games. Richard Buss and first year men Rich Higginson, Mory Hirt, Ross Stewart, Al Pilling, Barry Wilkinson and Doug Weisner gave added strength.

This chapter has ended, but we are confident that next season's players will carry on the tradition of good fellowship, the fighting will to win, and good sportsmanship, in victory or defeat.

CURLING

Every Tuesday brooms swept like fiends in the hands of ardent curlers trying to urge the rock past the hog-line. When the last game was over, Murray Parker and his rink of Wendy Woods, Larry Mason and Jim Orchard emerged victorious. Teams led by "pros" B. DeVries, Bill Bailey, F. Wellnitz, and R. Higginson tried but failed to surpass the skill of Skip Parker. Newcomers to the game will be back again next winter to capitalize on their experience, and we hope that they will have as much fun as we did this year.

Two teams represented G.C.I. in the Manitoba High School Bonspiel. F. Wellnitz, I. Bailey, A. Haugen and R. Pirie comprised one team, and R. Higginson, R. Buss, A. Ducharme and B. DeVries the other. Both represented our school well.

TRACK and FIELD, 1954

G.C.I. sent twelve athletes into the Provincial track meet, as a result of their wins in the Suburban and Local trials. Lois Wilson led the girls with 60 and 75-yard dash victories, while Ileane Mousseau and Judy Bjarnason put strong arms to the discus. Don Dumpleton, Jack Robertson and Lawrence Lobos swept past all opposition in spectacular style in 100 and 220-yard heats, and the Suburban record-holder in the high-jump, Neale Driver, joined them to win the shuttle relay. Richard Higginson, Albert Ducharme and Bob Keith were double winners, while Dan Roberts and Ron Leibl each contributed a victory to put them in the finals.

Some of the above are still present, and at time of publication, we can safely hope for a victory this year over St. James, who managed to gather up 104 points to our 102 last May.

Champion Wrestlers

Wrestling

Wrestling in P.T. periods got the grade X and XI boys in trim for the final bouts in the Athletic Show. Fortunately, no "Gorging Georges" or "Mad Man Muntzes" were discovered. These contestants came out of the smoke as winners of their weight divisions:

Bill Woodcock won in lightweight; John Rybuck led in the welterweight division; Don Harris topped middleweight; flyweight and featherweight winners had to work for their honour, but Ken Watanabe and Don Dumpleton finally proved best of eight entries.

Sports Editorial . . .

Sports Council, although formed late in the term, managed to re-organize the point-system for school letters, secure mats for the gym, and run off a noon-hour basketball schedule which everyone enjoyed. Robyn Hull as chairman, and Bill Balicky as basketball chief, may take a bow for an efficient job.

At last year's graduation, athletic proficiency medals were given to Wendy Woods, Phyllis Seddon, Dan Roberts, Don Shaw, Neale Driver and Bruce Johnston. School letters went to Judy Bjarnasson, Adelaide Oddleifson, Phyllis Seddon, Mae Clark, Sharon Hewitson, Ken Gee, Bob Noyes, Lawrence Lobos, and Al Ducharme.

Congratulations, Grads; your contribution to true sportsmanship will always remain in the heart of G.C.I. as a reminder to us and to Junior High students graduating into our school in the future—a reminder that, win or lose, it is the effort that really matters.

—Richard Buss.

Girls' Basketball

St. Michael's 35-31. The Glenlawn team, almost completely ignored as a contender, fought its way to recognition as a worthy competitor for the Provincial trophy. But although the team put a valiant fight into the final round, they were outpaced by the faster, more experienced squad from Flin Flon, and the game ended with a 43-37 score.

As Champlain, "The Father of New France," had three aims, so it was with Coach Art Leach, "Glenlawn's Father of Basketball." First and foremost was to have his team learn good sportsmanship, team-work and a lot of basketball. His second aim was to win the suburban championship, and his third, the Provincial Crown. He was successful in reaching his first two goals, and we wish him and next year's team the best of luck in accomplishing all three.

TUMBLING

Tumbling Champions

Back Row—Wendy Woods, Robyn Hull, Rilla Barret.

Ground work training by Mr. Serebrin has shown dividends again this year in tumbling activities. In tumbling tests held at March 25th's athletic show, three girls tied for first place with 139 out of 180 points. They were Betty Stevens, Rilla Barrett, and Wendy Woods. Robyn Hull and Laurie Pitcairn proved themselves tops in the boys' division.

The Variety Show owed a great deal of its success to the boys and girls who put on a fine tumbling act. Even the Cheerleaders looked pretty agile, mixing roars and rolls to inspire our teams. Thanks to our early training, we can all do handstands and forward rolls well enough to compete with the monkeys at the city zoo.

Romance in Everyday Life

Cocoa, in a sterile, white cup, on a starched, gingham tablecloth. Brown bubbles circle and circle until you see brewing in your cup the jungles of deepest Brazil. A deep, dark cocoa plantation looms there, and polished ebony skin, which covers bones of steel, glitters in the sun. The natives toil steadily in the driving heat. The inferno of the sun urges them on . . . more, more, work, bend, strive, more. Pop! The bubble bursts, but you gaze at it for a moment. Romance has entered your life right from the first ray of morning.

Snow, crunching and crackling under the feet. Soft, white kitten's fur when it drifts to earth; then, as the earth circles the sun, the snow ages and withers and dirties. Slushy and wet, it deteriorates, then evaporates into nothingness. But its departure brings wonders unsurpassed.

Spring and Easter herald the world. The words themselves inject a note of romance. As the tongue softly forms, then utters "Spring" or "Easter", the mind is set meandering. Soft, fuzzy grass and feathery zephyrs are suggested. Exams are written; then comes the slow release from bother and worry. The long, dark months are over. Easter tells us so. The birds trill romance. The breeze whispers it. The brook bubbles it.

Water in a cool, mountain stream bubbling and gossiping along the way. It caresses your dangling feet as it trickles through the soft clay and over flat, white stones.

. . . These are romance, and in them may be found the romance that every life requires. Take them, keep them and cherish them, for in them lies the single factor that characterizes your life as your very own.

When you have romance you have life in its truest form.

—Barbara Patterson, XI.

STORM SYMPHONY

The rain which had been pouring down for two hours was beating expostulation at the puny audiences huddled in their places in that great auditorium—the Earth. But now as the lights were dimmed, and as dusk came on, the rhythm on the rooftops paused momentarily. Then, as a great bass drum, the thunder boomed, and seemed to shake that auditorium. After this, all was still; only the drip, drip, drip, on the pavement could be heard, and a small, rain-soaked and frightened kitten crying at the kitchen door.

Douglas Kilgour, Grade X.

HIS PRAYER TO A FRIEND

When I a poem shall make,
Know I have asked thee,
For my own sake,
My Friend, to aid me.

Make the way soft for me,
When I, the Poet,
Take this poem to the
Teacher and show it.

Money I'll give to thee,
And a good valet,
And thou my Friend, shalt be Placed in my wallet.

—Gordon Evans, XII.

(Parody on Herrick's
"Ode to Ben Jonson")

TO MR. SEREBRIN

Dear Mr. Serebrin,
When we are sixty-one,
We always will remember you,
As the one who urged us on,
With cheerings such as "birdbrains"
And "lunkheads" just a few
Of the kind words of encouragement
We heard each day from you!
All year we checked the hasty words
We had the urge to say
When you came into our classroom
Monday through Friday,
The urge to say "Could you just once
When in the same grade as me
Find how many grams of molecules
There were in the Red Sea?"
And when our own kids reach the age
When from you they must learn
Of grams and moles and molecules,
The memories will return,—
Sweet memories of by-gone days,
Days full of fun—yet fear,
Of whether we would pass or fail
When came the end of year.

J. M. Barrie, the famous Scottish novelist and dramatist, was once approached by a young man who was seeking a title for his book.

"Any drums in your book?" asked Barrie.

"No drums," said the man, surprised.

"Any trumpets?"

"No," was the reply.

"Then," said Mr. Barrie, wryly, "I would call the book 'No Drums, No Trumpets'."
